(New York, March 13, 2017) – Altice USA today announced that it has partnered with the City of Yonkers and Yonkers Public Schools to raise awareness of its low-cost Optimum broadband service, which provides eligible families and seniors in the tri-state area with access to fast, high-quality internet connectivity at an affordable low price. The partnership was introduced during an event at the Yonkers Montessori Academy during which students presented on the importance of the internet to an audience that included Yonkers Mayor Mike Spano, the Superintendent of Yonkers Public Schools Dr. Edwin M. Quezada and Board of Education President Rev. Steve Lopez. Altice USA is a leading telecommunications company that provides Optimum TV, phone and internet services in the New York metro area.

In addition to the student presentation, the event featured remarks from Mayor Spano and Superintendent Quezada.

“Internet access is essential in today’s digital world, and we are pleased to partner with Altice USA to ensure that Yonkers residents are aware of its low-cost Optimum broadband offering,” said Mayor Spano. “We look forward to this partnership helping to bring high-speed internet service into more homes throughout Yonkers.”

“The internet is a crucial resource for our students, in the classroom and beyond, and we applaud Altice USA for introducing an affordable new broadband product in Yonkers,” said Superintendent Quezada. “We appreciate the company’s efforts to draw attention to this service and for providing our students with the opportunity to speak to their local leaders about the significance of the internet in achieving success.”

“Altice USA is committed to serving our local communities with the products and services that connect people to the things that matter most,” said Lee Schroeder, SVP, Government & Public Affairs at Altice USA “We are glad to enable those connections for more families with our low-cost Optimum broadband solution and are pleased to partner with Mayor Mike Spano and the City of Yonkers, as well as Yonkers Public Schools, to raise awareness of this service.”
